DOING BUSINESS OUTSIDE YOUR STATE

The 2019 CSC® Guide

The following charts are excerpted from Qualifying to Do Business in Another State: The CSC® 50-State Guide to Qualification. The Revised Model Business Corporation Act (RMBCA) defines “doing business” in the negative. It lists activities that alone are insufficient to require a foreign corporation to qualify to do business in a foreign state. Therefore, the following chart outlines these insufficient activities to provide clarification as to what does not constitute doing business in a particular state. The second chart outlines the consequences of transacting business without authority.

Therefore, one must find what activities are not doing business from Alabama case law or federal law — “[a] foreign entity is not required to register . . . if other law of this state or [i]f federal law authorizes the entity to transact the particular business authorized by law in this state.” Ala. Code § 10A-1-7.02(c). Alabama courts have interpreted what actions constitute not doing business or the types of business that do not merit qualification. For example, see Marcus v. J.R. Watkins Co., 188 So.2d 543, 547-549 (Ala. 1966) (Alabama Supreme Court found corporation was doing or transacting business in the state where it did “a great deal more activity . . . than the mere solicitation of orders.” The court found that renting hotel rooms in the state, renting meeting halls in the state, and hiring two full-time salaried employees in the state constituted activity that elevated the acts of sales solicitations in the state to the level of transacting business.) Also see Casa Invs. Co. v. Boles, 931 So.2d 53 (Ala. Civ. App. 2005) (court held that initiating lawsuit in Alabama to collect on a debt was not doing business); Kelley v. Nawas Int’l Travel Serv., 68 So.3d 823, 831 (Ala. 2011) (providing travel and touring advice to customers throughout the United States is interstate in nature and not doing business in Alabama for qualification purposes). Also note that foreign unincorporated nonprofit associations and general partnerships are not required to qualify in Alabama. § 10A-1-7.02(d) and § 10A-1-7.21. | Ala. ## Egan on Entities: Corporations, Partnerships and Limited Liability Companies in Texas, Second Edition

Egan on Entities: Corporations, Partnerships and Limited Liability Companies in Texas is a comprehensive treatise on corporate, partnership, and limited liability company law. It was developed as a way to collect experiences in dealing with the formation, governance, sale, and termination of entities.

Combining both scholarly analysis and practical guidance on business entity law, the treatise will be invaluable for business leaders, in-house legal departments, and academic institutions alike.

The Directors' Handbook

One of the leading guides to corporate governance for directors, The Directors' Handbook is a well-written resource for directors, officers, attorneys, corporate secretaries, and others involved in board activities.

The book tackles a wide variety of key issues faced by today's directors from both a practical and legal perspective, and provides insightful analysis of the evolving regulatory landscape.

Symonds & O'Toole on Delaware Limited Liability Companies, Second Edition

This newly updated treatise includes discussion on the Delaware Limited Liability Company (LLC) Act and related case law, legal analysis and practice recommendations, and appendices that contain the current Delaware LLC Act, historical versions of the statute, legislative history, and up-to-date forms.

This publication also provides workable solutions for even the most complex transactions, and practical insight into case law interpreting the statute.

Our history dates back to 1899, when Josiah Marvel and Christopher Ward, two leading figures of the Delaware legal community, founded separate firms to provide entity formation and statutory representation services to businesses. Two decades later, they joined forces to create CSC®. Today, we are a world leader in business, legal, tax, and digital brand services. With headquarters in Delaware, and offices throughout the U.S., Canada, Europe, Australia, and the Asia-Pacific region, we are the preferred solutions provider for 90% of the Fortune 500®, more than half of the 100 Best Global Brands (Interbrand®), and a growing share of the Global 2000®. We help form entities, maintain compliance, execute secured transaction work, and support real estate, M&A, and other corporate transactions. We help effectively manage, promote, and secure our clients' valuable brand assets against the threats of the online world. We offer a single tax and risk management platform that helps clients better manage risk, achieve greater automation and data transparency, and stay in compliance.
